

On June 10, 2010 Attitash Grand Summit Hotel & Conference Center hosted Chocolate for Charity, an event that netted over $2,000 to help White Mountain Community Health Center. General Manager, Steve Mannik and Administrative Assistant Jen Sims coordinated the talents of local chefs, restaurateurs, chocolatiers, pastry chefs and retailers who presented imaginative original creations and tasty traditional treats. A silent auction also added to the excitement with generous donations from local businesses. Chocolate for Charity is just one of the many ways Attitash works to make our community a better place. The staff and management of WMCHC extend their deepest gratitude to Attitash and everyone in the community who helped support this event by contributing or attending.
